The OJSC MMK Personal Data Processing Policy

1. General

1.1. The OJSC MMK Personal Data Processing Policy (the "Policy") defines the main principles, purposes, terms and methods of personal data processing, lists of data subjects and personal data processed at OJSC MMK, OJSC MMK's functions in relation to personal data processing, the rights of data subjects, as well as the requirements for personal data protection implemented at OJSC MMK.

1.2. The Policy has been developed taking into account the requirements of the Russian Constitution and Russian legislation on personal data.

1.3. The provisions of this Policy serve as the basis for the development of local regulations governing the processing of personal data relating to OJSC MMK employees and other data subjects at OJSC MMK.

1.4. The Policy provides a framework for OJSC MMK subsidiaries and entities to develop local regulations defining the policy for personal data processing at these organisations.

2. Russian laws and regulations providing a framework for the OJSC MMK Personal Data Processing Policy

2.1. The following regulations provide a framework for the OJSC MMK Personal Data Processing Policy:

- Labour Code of the Russian Federation
- Federal Law No. 152-FZ On Personal Data, dated 27 July 2006
- Federal Law No. 160-FZ On Ratifying the Council of Europe Convention for the Protection of Individuals with Regard to Automatic Processing of Personal Data, dated 19 December 2005
- Federal Law No. 149-FZ On Information, Information Technology and Information Protection, dated 27 July 2006
- Executive Order of the Russian President No. 188 On the Approval of the List of Confidential Information, dated 6 March 1997
- Resolution of the Government of the Russian Federation No. 687 On the Approval of the Regulation on the Specifics of Non-Automated Processing of Personal Data, dated 15 September 2008
- Resolution of the Government of the Russian Federation No. 512 On the Approval of the Requirements for Physical Carriers of Biometric Data and the Technologies for Storing Such Data Outside Personal Data Information Systems, dated 6 July 2008

- Resolution of the Government of the Russian Federation No. 1119 On the Approval of the Requirements for the Protection of Personal Data During Their Processing in Personal Data Information Systems, dated 1 November 2012

- Order of the FSTEC of Russia No. 21 On the Approval of the Scope and Content of Organisational and Technical Measures to Ensure the Security of Personal Data During Their Processing in Personal Data Information Systems, dated 18 February 2013

- Order of Roskomnadzor No. 996 On the Approval of the Requirements and Methods for the Pseudonymisation of Personal Data, dated 5 September 2013

- Other laws and regulations of the Russian Federation and regulations of authorised public authorities

2.2 To implement the provisions of this Policy, OJSC MMK develops relevant local regulations and other documents, including:

- Regulations on the Procedure for Personal Data Processing at OJSC MMK

- The Order on the Appointment of a Person Responsible for Personal Data Processing Arrangements and on the Establishment of a Commission for Personal Data Protection

- The Regulation On the Approval of the Lists of Employee Roles with Access to Personal Data and Responsible for Implementing Data Protection Measures.

3. Key terms and definitions used in OJSC MMK's local regulations governing the processing of personal data

Personal data – any information relating to a directly or indirectly identified or identifiable individual (data subject).

Operator – a public authority, municipal authority, legal entity or individual which, alone or jointly with others, organises and/or carries out the processing of personal data, and which determines the purposes of personal data processing, the scope of personal data to be processed, and the actions (operations) performed on personal data.

Personal data processing – any action (operation) or a set of actions (operations) which is performed on personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, accumulation, storage, rectification (update, alteration), retrieval, use, transmission (dissemination, sharing or otherwise making available), pseudonymisation, restriction, erasure or destruction of personal data.

Automated processing of personal data – the processing of personal data using computer equipment.

Dissemination of personal data – actions aimed at disclosing personal data to the public.

Sharing of personal data – actions aimed at disclosing personal data to a certain person or a certain group of persons.

Restriction of personal data – the marking of stored personal data with the aim to temporarily exclude them from processing (except when the processing is needed for the rectification of personal data).

Destruction of personal data – actions performed on personal data contained in a personal data information system which make the restoration of such data impossible and/or actions resulting in the destruction of physical carriers of personal data.

Pseudonymisation of personal data – the processing of personal data in such a manner that the personal data can no longer be attributed to a specific data subject without the use of additional information.

Personal data information system – the totality of personal data contained in databases and the information technologies and technical means for processing these data.

Cross-border transfer of personal data – the transmission of personal data to a foreign authority, a foreign national or a foreign legal entity located in a foreign state.

4. The principles and purposes of personal data processing

4.1. As a personal data operator, OJSC MMK carries out the processing of personal data relating to OJSC MMK employees and other data subjects not employed by OJSC MMK.

4.2. The processing of personal data at OJSC MMK is carried out in such a manner as to ensure the protection of the rights and freedoms of OJSC MMK employees and other data subjects, including the protection of the right to privacy, personal and family secrets, and is based on the following principles:

- Personal data shall be processed lawfully and fairly
